A Mayor for All New Yorkers

Paid for by New Yorkers for Fields, Milton E. Wilson Treasurer

“Everywhere you look in our city, you see priorities that are out of touch with the daily lives of New Yorkers. I believe we need a mayor who will pay attention to the daily lives of people – in every borough and in every neighborhood. Together we can make New York once again a city where all are included, where all are welcome, and where everyone can follow their dream.”

— C. Virginia Fields

At the age of 17, C. Virginia Fields was arrested with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and spent seven days in Birmingham, Alabama’s infamous jail.

Seven years ago, the voters of Manhattan elected C. Virginia Fields as borough president to work to transform our schools, create jobs and economic opportunity, help seniors and fight for affordable housing.

As borough president, Fields has earned a reputation as a consensus builder with the courage to stand up for ordinary New Yorkers and the strength and determination to get results.

Now she is running for mayor to build a more fair, just and prosperous city where no one is denied the opportunity to participate in the decisions that shape their lives, and no one is denied the opportunity for a decent job, affordable housing, a good education or quality health care.
